The assembly department produces product based on the customer's specifications. This is done with the use of industrial hot glue guns and staplers. Attention to detail is a must. All items must be measured and placed correctly. Inventory is maintained using software specifically designed for the corrugated industry. Assembly employees are required to track all components of the final product along with the final product to ensure our customers' needs are met. You would work hand and hand with the customer service, corrugation, woodshop, and shipping departments to. This is only an overview of the duties, other duties may be expected.
